Director of Personnel

5E-56 Hqs.

Attached is an Attitudinal Study done by the A&E Staff. It represents shifts in attitude among members of the July 1966 CT class toward the Agency and the separate Directorates.

Mr. Bannerman thought that some of the items stressed by the CT's as "appeal points for CIA" might be of particular interest to the Recruitment Division.

Some of the points stressed by the CT's as "appeal points for CIA" could be stressed to the recruits

Perhaps this is being done - but pass along to Personnel.

NOTE FOR: Mr. Bannerman via [redacted]

STAT

Attached is the Attitudinal Study done by the A&E Staff. I have marked what appear to be the most significant points.

STAT

[redacted] who did the study, tells me that if he had to put his finger on the two most important shifts in attitude towards Support that occurred among CT's, he would pick professionalism and creativity. He says that the single most important reason he thinks for the favorable shift towards Support was your own appearance during the first two weeks. You were the most senior speaker to appear and this underscored in their minds the importance you attach to the CT Program.
